PARC is the joint venture company formed by the City of Edinburgh Council and the EDI Group to deliver the long-term strategic regeneration of Craigmillar.

The company is responsible for creating over 3,000 new homes, a new secondary school and three new primary schools, a public library, community learning facilities and a revitalised town centre.

In delivering this PARC will work with contractors and the relevant support agencies to create employment opportunities and business opportunities for Craigmillar.

Established in 2000, Craigmillar District Business Association (CDBA) is a membership run initiative aimed at promoting, servicing and representing the interests of the local business community. Its primary objective is to provide a local networking and information forum for established businesses, local entrepreneurs and individuals within the Greater Craigmillar area.

The CDBA keeps a close and constant watch on developments within Craigmillar business environment, offering advice and support on the major redevelopments planned for the area and providing an effective lobbying group for its members whenever necessary.
